

Mobile Development

Intellipro has been providing customer delight through its innovative mobile development solutions. Our mobile development services brings your concepts and ideas into reality. We deliver with shortest possible time to market, within budget without compromising on quality. We provide end to end mobile solutions taking into consideration each and every aspect of mobile development including the UI/UX part, performance, security and marketing of mobile apps.

Mobile app design and mobile app development are essential components to almost every single business today. From employees to customers, mobile apps make it possible for people to stay constantly connected and productive.

Today, effective mobile apps are solving many business related challenges enabling salesforces to manage their pipelines, helping engineers inspect building plans, giving doctors the ability to review patient data, and more.

App Strategy:

Your mobile app is not just a tool to facilitate users procure your offerings but a profitable business model. A mobile app is valuable asset to your company. This requires right strategy and in-depth consulting so as to make sure that you make right inroads into your target segment. Intellipro offers strategic consulting that analyzes your app's concept, functionalities and overall utility to ensure realistic business model.

App Designing:

Designing an app is of paramount importance to reach out to target audience. Whether your users are android based or you are creating an app for apple store you will need a reliable mobile app design services capable of understanding your target users.

App Development:

We develop apps for iphone, ipad, android, windows, m-commerce and hybrid apps.

Iphone App Development:

Apple with over 10 years of dominance in the smartphone industry is a constant source bold innovation. Hence, the best iOS app developers should not only have substantial experience with creating apps in apple ecosystem but need to also have adaption capabilities and be in touch with constant changes and update that iphone and ipad system requires. At Intellipro we make sure that our resources has current, in-depth knowledge of several coding languages associated with iOS development, its review guidelines and use of of its over 4000 APIs. Our team is experienced and creative to give you business a thrust in mobile marketplace by developing apps that wow our clients apps users. We are an iOS app development company have specialized expertise in working with this platform.

Android App Development:

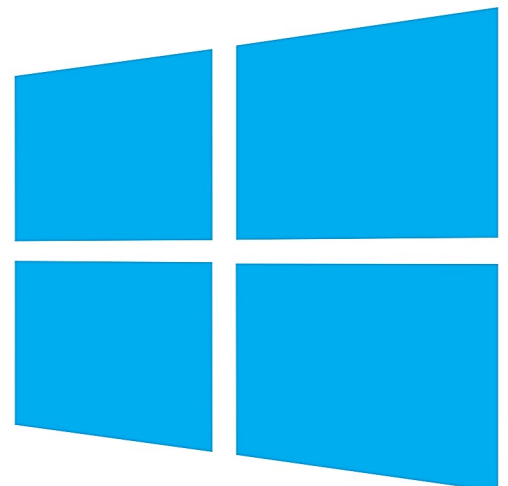

Intellipro team consists of technically-sound and professional android developers who have unparalleled expertise and best-in-class skills for Android application development. Our experts have versatile and vast knowledge and experience in developing robust and scalable mobile apps that are visually appealing, unique and engaging. Our resources are equipped with cutting-edge tools, industry standards, and latest developments to design and develop customer centric Android apps that fits various business models.

Our team of expert developers works in collaboration with respective clients to deliver solutions that meet every needs. They are highly proficient in creating interesting and responsive applications for the most widely used Smartphone platform – Android.

Our developers design cutting-edge enterprise level applications that maximize revenues.

Windows App Development:

Intellipro team of mobile (wireless) application developers with their wide experience in wireless application development have created a strong track record in the latest phone platform – Windows Mobile. Intellipro Windows Mobile team has very good knowledge in Windows Mobile development, and our deep expertise comes as much from experience as from passion.

Support and Maintenance:

IntelliPro just does not stop engagement with clients once the app is released on the store. We provide professional support and maintenance for any legal or regulatory updates, database management, business support and other various considerations.

App Marketing:

Without strong marketing and monetization strategy you will end making just another app lost in the crowd of thousands of app. We consult develop strong profitable business model for your app. Majority of downloads come directly from the users who discover your app from organic search within the relative app store, so your app store optimization is very crucial. We also help our clients in advertising using ad networks.

Mobile Technologies:

Frameworks:

We have substantial experience in developing apps using android, ios and Windows 8.1

Libraries:

Our developers have hands on experience in using libraries such as Ionic, Mobile Angular UI, Titanium, Sencha Touch, Kendo UI, PhoneGap

Integrated Development Environment:

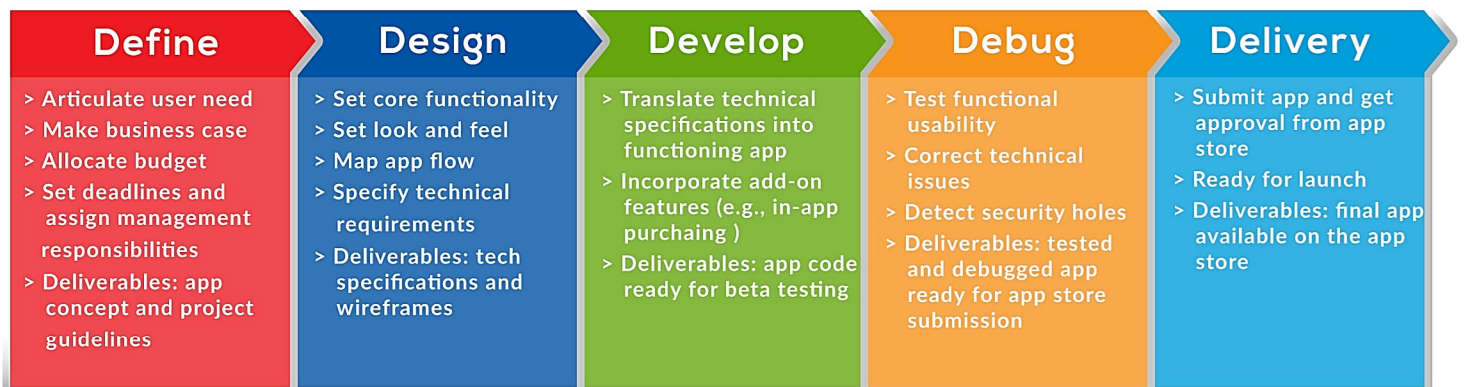

Android: Android Studio and Eclipse

iOS: Xcode

Domains:

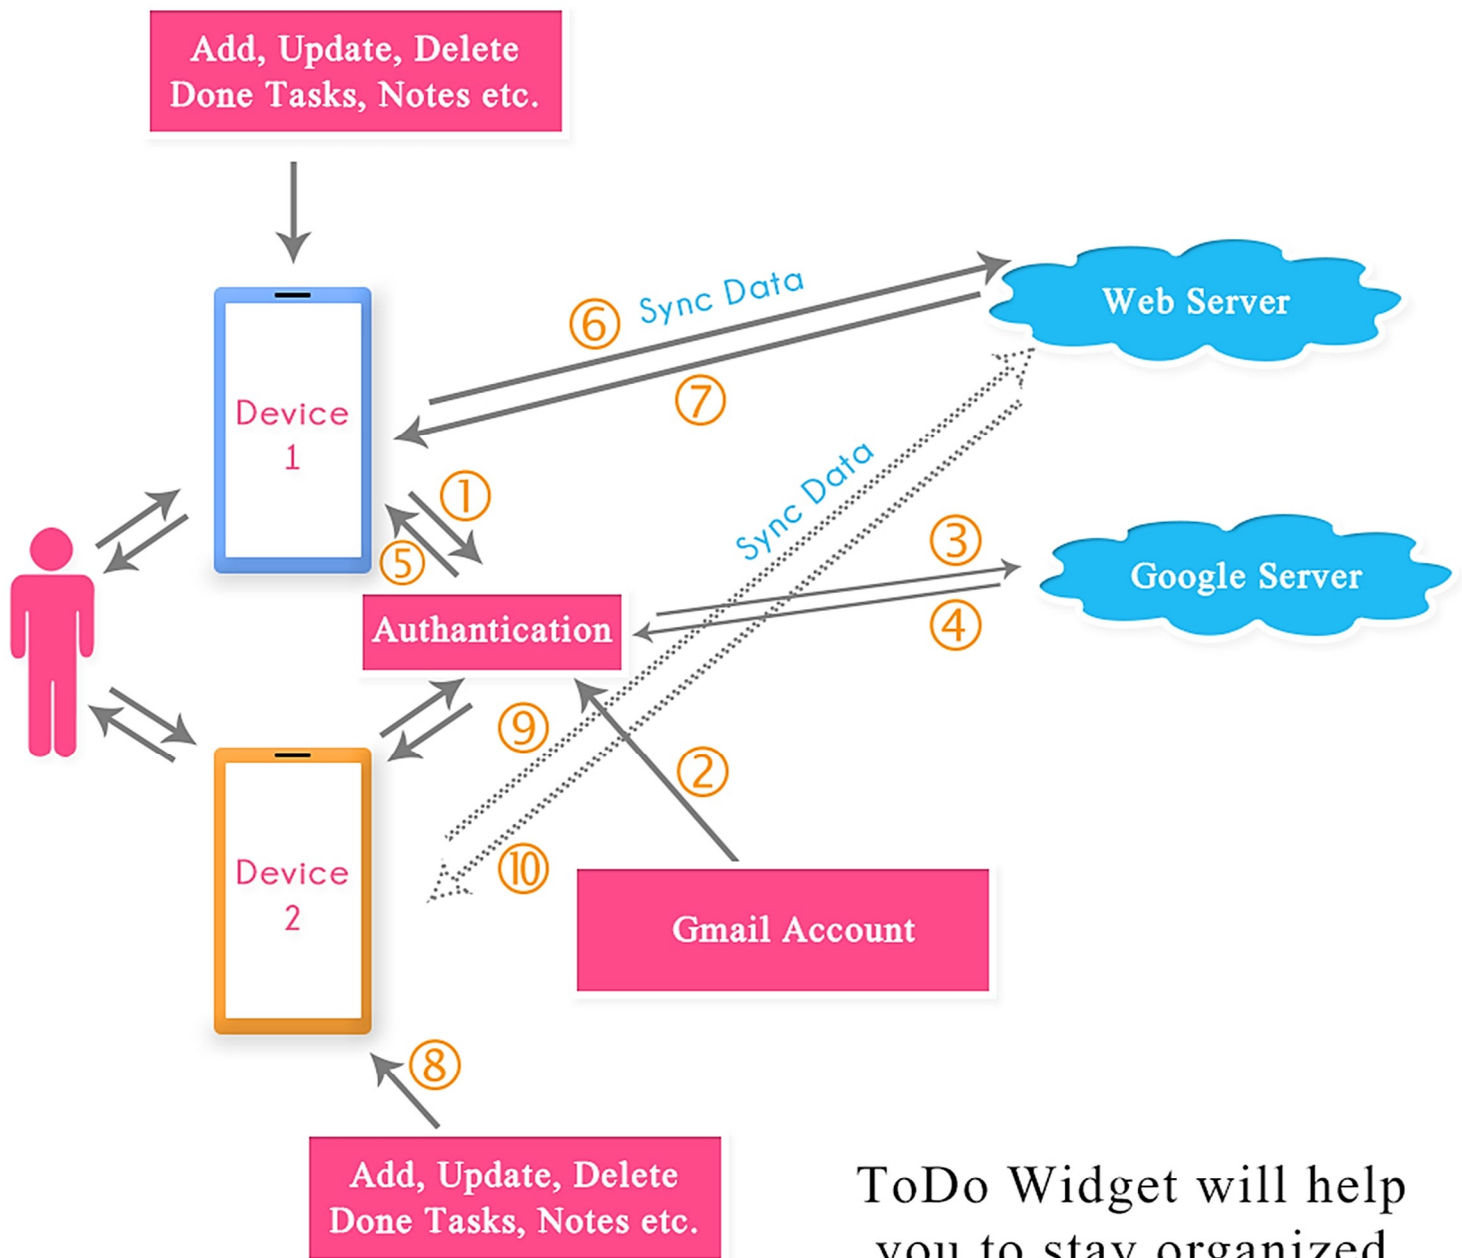

We have built apps for travel and hospitality, Utility, Games, Multimedia and Kids, Location & NFC, Health & Fitness related domains.

Mobile Application Development Process:

✦ Architecture of one of the apps developed by us.

To-Do widget work flow

ToDo Widget will help you to stay organized and planned.